

An apprentice was a boy that had to pay a lot of money to learn a trade. He lived and worked in the house of his master for about seven years.

